MR. TRIST AND THE PRESIDENT .- The letter which Mr. Trist addressed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and which was read to the House on Thursday, is published in the National Intelligencer of the 11th. Mr. Trist's letter was accompanied with various documents and papers, which he asks the Speaker to lay before that body. He says:

They are not what I have wished and in tended to present; but the day fixed for the adjounrment of Congress forbids any further delay on my part, and until my intention can be executed they must suffice. They will answer the purpose of dispelling, in some degree at least, the mystification with which the mind of our country has been clouded up in regard to come and convince themselves that those asserto the treaty of peace, and all matters touched tions are something more than empty boasts. Their upon in them.

I soon became aware of the mystification above referred to. As the only way in which THEIR ADVERTISEMENTS. ap 24. it could be thoroughly dispelled, I determined to lay before the representatives of the people | UST received from New York, a connected and detailed narrative of everything that has occurred to me having the slight est bearing upon matters which the public interests demand that the country should know the exact truth of. This exact and full knowledge and thorough understanding, it is of the very highest importance to her that she should possess. It is so for numberless reasons that most deeply concern her, and concern her in the most permanent manner, concern her for sale by now, and concern her in the boundless hereafter.

The letter says that the "narrative" above referred to will be prepared in a month or two. Mr. Trist then goes on to make the following very grave declara-

Had Congress continued to sit a month or two longer I should not at this moment have broken silence; I should have bided until 1 could lay before the country, through her representatives, he marcative to which I have re- in store and for sole by terred, connected aubroken, not a single gap in it, detailed so far as necessary to establish a clear connexion. This is the only way which truth can be presented in a shape to leave no doubt as to its being what it is. Isolated "prominent facts" will not do. However true they may be, they can always be denied, and more or less plausibly converted. The whole truth is the thing; this the people shall have. It will then be seen who, among those who seek their

In one of the accompanying papers (letter to the "Representatives of the American prople," under date "Mexico, Feb. 12, 1848.) my belief is expressed that Congress and the country had been deceived by the individual holding the trust of "President of the United States," and that the object for which that deception had been practised was the indefinite protraction of the war-this protraction of the war having for its end the conquest of Mexico and her absorption into our Union. This was my belief then; it is my belief now. In that same letter, and particularly in the notes recently appended to it, my belief is expressed that a corrupt use has been made of the power and the influence attached to the trust of "President of the United States," even to the extent of subordination of perjury!

Upon both these points my belief is positive A Common Bar, Flat, Round and Square, Broad and firm, distinct and clear. The letter then refers to the late revolution in France, and after citing as one of the leading causes of that event "the corrupt use of Executive influence," goes on to say-

It is time, high time, that we should LOOK AT HOME. "Corrupt use of Executive influence," such as, according to my solemn belief, has occurred among ourselves within the last six months, cannot have been surpassed by anything that formed part of the "misrule" of the "Citizen King." In point of unscrupulousness and flagitiousness, it cannot have been surpassed. In point of audacity and effrontery, I doubt if it has been equalled by anything ever ventured upon by that "mon-

AGUE AND FEVER OR CHILLS AND FEVER CURED BY SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP.

THE proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all other remedies ever and vicinity, that he has just received his new and splendid stock of Jewelsey, Warenes; and Clocks, offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy, and permanent cure and Fever. He refers to the whole Western country to bear him testimony case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and care surance he is fully prepared to warrant a cure in all forms whatever of Agil nilis and Fever whetaer of short or long standing; and all persons selling it are hereby au the money to persons who may have used it as directed when it shall have fairly failed This remedy has now been extensively used throughout the West and So st seven years and within that period has permanently cured 200,000 cases, in all its been of from one to three years stand ng, and had resisted all the usual and in no case did this medicine fail where the directions were followed it success that a larger number of respectable practitioners of medicine, in vi and prescribe it in preference to Quinine and all other rumedies. The public are assured that it is not only certain in its effects as a Tonic, but of vegetable medicines, is perfectly innocent in any cases or circumstances, an intants, and all persons of debilitated and delicate constitutions without the leaf This me living is composed of articles of tee primest and purest quality, and the many Tonics now looding the Western and Southwestern country,) and in this respect alone is rendered greatly superior to he remedies usually prepared and sold in the country.

By its aperient and powerful diaphoretic properties, added to its tonic qualities, it is rendered eminently superior to quinine and other remedies as a general and popular Tonic in all cases whatever where Tonics are proper to be administered. The proprietor, therefore, would respectfully invite practitioners add the public generally to give it but a fair trial, and they will then be convinced of its great superiority over all other remedies now in use for the purposes specified.

Persons living in districts of country subject to Ague and Fever, Chillt and Fever, or Bilious Fevers would do well to keep a supply of this valuable remedy always on hand, especially it medical aid cannot The proprietor has now in his possession hundreds of certificates of its value, given by persons who have used it, with many letters from merchants who have sold it largely in their country, as well as from many respectable practitioners, who have used it in preference to other remedies, attesting its value. CINCINNATI, July 20, 1844. Messas, Wilson, Petter, & Smith-Gentlemen: The author of this is the meagre subject who presented himself at your counter, on Friday, the 12th inst., under a complete state of debility from fever and ague. invite all dealers, who wish to do a saving business You will recollect I took a bottle of Smith's Tonic Syrup, at your earnest solicitation, and, being so very weak, I did not wish to take any medicine until I got home when I could receive proper attention. I got home on Sabbath morning in time to take two doses before my shake came on. It came on at its usual stock embraces every thing belonging to the grocery hour (10 o'clock, A. M.) as hard as usual, but it fasted but a short time. The fever also left me a great deal sooner than usual. In the evening I resumed the Tonic, as directed, and only had time to take three doses until bedtime. Next morning, after breakfast, I continued taking it until the hour of ague and tever had passed, when I dropped it, and was entirely free from the disease. I did not think it possible for medicine to restore a person as fast as the Tonic restored me. The greatest difficulty now is to govern my appetite. I do think, without exception, it is the best medicine I ever took.

E. G. MAGUIRE. Paris, Tennassee, September 11, 1840. Messas. Wilson, Perrer, & Smith-Gentlemen: I wrote you, four days ago, requesting you to send me more of the Tonic Syrup. I am now entirely out, and have borrowed two dozen. The demand for it is very great. In every instance where it has been tried it has effected a cure. If you have not started the parcel for me before this reaches you, eight or ten dozen of it will not be too much to send.

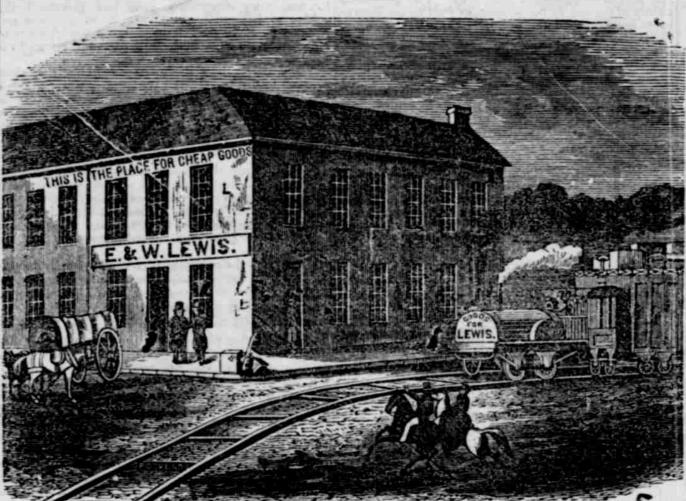

Respectfully, &c., Moura Sanov, Tennessee, August 24, 1840. MESSRS. WILSON, PETTET, & SMITH-Gentlemen: You will please send me two dozen Smith's Tonic Syrup. I cannot close my letter without informing you that, out of the three dezen of the Tonic Syrup I bought of you this last spring, I have only two or three bottles now on hand. It is called for almost daily in the Probate Court Vanderburgh County, in vaca and it has never failed in the first instance of producing an effectual cure. It is the best medicine for the cure of chills and fever or ague and fever that I have ever seen. Your early attention to the above order JAMEST. EDMUNDS. will much oblige your friend. MORRIS S. JOHNSON. These pills contain the tour leading properties for the cure of diseases. There is no chronic affection in which the Liver, the Stomach, the Bowels or the which the Liver, the Stomach, the Bowels or the blood is not concerned. Therefore, these pills are carefully and correctly prepared to meet those several indications. In all Bilious complaints they care carefully and correctly prepared to meet those seve-ral indications. In all Bilious complaints they cure by acting upon the liver, and carrying off the redundant, or excessive bile; and at the same time exciting the liver into full action. In dyspepsia, they carry off the accumulated mass of acidity, and correct the stomach and digestive organs. It is a fact weil known and generally acknowledged, that a great part of chronic diseases depends upon impurity of the blood. These pills possess the power of puritying the blood, even in the most obstinate cases of scrofula or laccid temperament; and as a cathartic, they act gently upon the bowels, removing all unhealthy accumulations. They are mild in their nature, and may be used with perfect safety in all ages, from infancy to old age. For sale by
